It is important to determine the primary skin concerns in relation to the skin type e.g. if Oily skin is dehydrated, it is important to find out the reason or possible cause contributing to dehydration (overcleansing, incorrect products usage, lifestyle etc). Based on that evaluation make the recommendations for both home care and salon care. Sometimes it will require a go low go slow approach that will take months to correct e.g. reactivity before you can address secondary concerns like e.g. pigmentation. That is why continuous consultation and client follow up is of utmost importance.
